

SPECIAL OFFICER CALLS TALESMEN INCHASTEENCASE

Judge W. T. Church Appoints Charles Oswald, Overseer of Poor, as Deputy.

EIGHT JURORS ARE SELECTED

Defense Exhausts All but Three of Preemptory Challenges—New Venue Summoned.

JURORS IN MURDER CASE.

Herman Hofer, Edgington, farmer. W. E. Tubah, East Moline, meat man. J. B. Gatten, Rock Island, painter. C. E. Johnson, Rapids City, laborer. George D. Snyder, Milan, merchant. Carl A. Muenster, Moline, laborer. Roy McElvahn, Moline, clerk. Lee Herbon, Moline, bricklayer.

Objection to George H. Richmond or his deputies serving a second venire of 10 men in the Dan Chasteen murder case, made by H. M. McCaskin and B. A. Stewart, counsel for the defendant, resulted in Judge W. T. Church just before the noon hour in circuit court today ordering that Charles Oswald, overseer of the poor, report in court this afternoon at 1 o'clock and be sworn in to serve the talesmen who were called for 2 o'clock.

Challenge Exhausted.

This motion on the part of the defense came when 17 out of the 20 preemptory challenges allowed under the statute had been exhausted. The jury box was not full and there were not enough left on the panel to complete the 12 men required, so that the court ordered a special venire of 10 men.

Counsel for the defense objected to the sheriff serving the papers and the court named Mr. Oswald, no showing being required in cases on this kind where the life of the defendant is in jeopardy and all of the preemptory challenges for jurors allowed under the law are exhausted.

The defense is preserving record of objection to the first special venire called in the case, on the ground that the men were served by deputy sheriff's who are witnesses for the prosecution. The state claims that Sheriff Richmond himself selected all of the names to be summoned and that his deputies took this list and from it served the 25 called for service.

When court adjourned today at noon but eight jurors had been selected. The second four talesmen tendered by the state yesterday afternoon, composed of Roy McElvahn, Moline; Carl A. Muenster, Moline; George Snyder, Milan, and Lee Hebron, Moline, were accepted by the defense. The state also tendered a final four, but here a snag was struck and all of them were dismissed and 12 more by defense, when it was found that the challenges were about exhausted and there was no opportunity to fill the jury box from the talesmen remaining.

Yesterday afternoon examination of the jury for the defense was conducted by Mr. Stewart and this morning by Mr. McCaskin. It is thought that introduction of evidence cannot be started before tomorrow.

Call Another Panel.

The second regular petit jury panel for the present term of circuit court was ordered this morning and will report Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock in branch court before Judge F. D. Ramsey, when the case of Andrews Chemically works vs. Max Koehler will be called. Bollinger & Block and J. T. & S. R. Kenworthy appear for the company and Searle Marshall for the defendant. Attempt is being made to collect for a bill of goods alleged to have been contracted for by the defendant. The case was not without its sensational features at the time of filing of the action and interesting litigation is anticipated.

JOLIET NOT OPEN TO DRY CAMPAIGN

Aurora, Ill., Feb. 4.—Petitions calling for a vote on the last day for filing, in a large number of northern Illinois cities and villages. In north-eastern Illinois the petitions were filed for the most part by "wets," who are seeking to recover ground lost in the last saloon elections which came soon after women were given the ballot.

The saloon forces apparently have given up hope of winning back Rockford, the biggest dry city in the state, and a frequent battle ground. No petition was filed there.

Among the cities where the saloons will try for reinstatement are: Elgin, Sterling, DeKalb, Rochelle, Batavia, Geneva, Plainfield, Plano, Yorkville, Hinckley and Sycamore.

Among the largest wet cities which the dries will try to win are Aurora, Rock Island and St. Charles.

There will be no vote in Joliet, which is wet. A large number of small towns which were voted dry at the last election will not be fought for by the saloon forces.

Clarinda, Iowa, Feb. 4.—Sheriff Whitmore and a posse of armed citizens are searching the country about Shambaugh for eight robbers who fled this morning made an unsuccessful attempt to rob the State Savings bank at Shambaugh.

The robbers kept the citizens of Shambaugh in terror from 2:10 o'clock, when the first of a series of explosions was heard, until 3:30 a. m. None of the explosions opened the big safe, however, and $3,000 in cash and large sums in checks and drafts were untouched.
